Serial Rapist Arrested, Additional Cases Being Investigated Victims were Intoxicated or Unconscious

SANTA BARBARA, CA – July 26, 2012

On July 26, 2012, SBPD Detective Brian Larson arrested Jerry Providence Bonhomme on charges stemming from sexual assaults to a fourth victim, a 27-year old woman. Bonhomme was still in custody at the Santa Barbara County Jail for the three other rape cases. Additional cases are being investigated.

This latest investigation began on July 23, 2012, after the victim contacted the Santa Barbara County District Attorney's Office to report her victimization after she learned through the news media that Bonhomme had been arrested for raping three other women. This victim described to Detective Larson four incidents of unwanted sexual contact with Bonhomme.

The first incident occurred in July or August 2007, during a time when the victim and Bonhomme had a dating relationship. In this instance, after a night of heavy drinking, the victim awoke in the middle of the night partially disrobed on Bonhomme's bed while Bonhomme was having sex with her. The victim stopped the assault and shortly thereafter ended her dating relationship with Bonhomme.

The second incident occurred around July 2010, during a five-month period when the victim was subletting a portion of her Eastside apartment to Bonhomme. The victim and Bonhomme were not involved in a romantic or sexual relationship. After an evening of drinking and marijuana use the victim went to bed in her room. She again awoke to find that she was partially disrobed and that Bonhomme was having sex with her. The victim stopped the assault and not long after ordered Bonhomme to move out of the apartment.

The victim recalled a third incident of unwanted sexual contact occurring with Bonhomme within the last few months; however her memory of many of the details is impaired.

The fourth incident occurred in March 2012. The victim, now married, had been drinking with Bonhomme at the Wildcat Lounge at 15 W. Ortega Street and had become very intoxicated. The two returned to the victim's apartment at approximately 2:00 a.m. and there continued to drink and play cards. At approximately 3:30 a.m. the victim went to sleep in her bed, assuming that Bonhomme would either sleep on her couch or leave the residence. The victim awoke to find Bonhomme crawling into bed with her. She stopped him and told him to leave. Bonhomme exited the room and the victim went back to sleep. Later, the victim awoke to the sensation of Bonhomme undressing her. She physically pushed Bonhomme away and shouted to him that she was married. The victim was certain that Bonhomme was trying to have sex with her while she was unconscious and she instructed him to leave. Following that, the victim recalled preventing another attempt by Bonhomme to get into bed with her. Then, at dawn, the victim awoke to find Bonhomme touching her as he stood beside her with his genitals exposed. The victim now ordered Bonhomme out of her house and told friends about the incident shortly thereafter.

Based on these incidents with this victim, Detective Larson arrested Bonhomme for the following felonies: rape of a victim unconscious of the nature of the act, assault with the intent to commit rape, burglary, and indecent exposure in an inhabited dwelling. His bail amount for these new charges is $100,000.00.

SANTA BARBARA, CA – July 11, 2012

On February 25, 2012 a 24-year old woman reported to Santa Barbara County Sheriff's Department deputies in Isla Vista that she had been raped while intoxicated hours earlier in the City of Santa Barbara. A report was taken and forwarded to the Santa Barbara Police Department for investigative follow-up. Crimes Against Persons Detective Brian Larson was assigned the case and over the course of the next month he determined that the suspect was Jerry Providence Bonhomme, age 30, of Santa Barbara.

Detective Larson's investigation determined that the victim met Bonhomme at Eos Lounge at 500 Anacapa Street. The victim, who was very intoxicated, was taken by Bonhomme to his home at 3060 Paseo Tranquillo. After vomiting she passed out on his bed, only to awaken to find that she was partially disrobed and being sexually assaulted. The victim ordered Bonhomme to stop, which he initially did. She was terrified, however too intoxicated to flee. She pretended to fall asleep, however when she became fearful that she was about to be raped again she mustered the strength to stand and exit Bonhomme's room, shouting, which alerted his roommate. Bonhomme then drove the victim back to where her vehicle was parked downtown. Once home in Isla Vista the victim reported the rape immediately.

With the assistance of Eos Lounge staff Detective Larson reviewed security footage from the night of the incident and was able to identify the suspect as Bonhomme, a felony probationer. On March 30, 2012 Detective Larson arrested Bonhomme at SBPD. Bonhomme was booked at Santa Barbara County Jail for rape of an intoxicated victim, sexual penetration with a foreign object of an intoxicated victim (digital penetration), and use of a controlled substance (cocaine). His bail amount was $100,000.00.

During the course of this investigation Detective Larson received information and interviewed other victims who stated that they had been sexually assaulted by Bonhomme. One instance occurred on the night of December 20, 2011 and the following morning. The victim, a 32-year old woman, had been at a party with her boyfriend on 1900 Grand Avenue. Neither had a car, so they subsequently accepted a ride home from the party from Bonhomme. The victim next remembered waking up on Bonhomme's bed to the realization that someone was having sex with her. She initially assumed it was her boyfriend, however to her horror and surprise realized that it was Bonhomme who was assaulting her while her boyfriend was passed out on the bed beside her. The victim stopped the assault and woke her boyfriend. Still without transportation, the victim and her boyfriend had to rely on Bonhomme to take them home.

The victim initially considered reporting this incident to police, however was pressured to not do so by mutual friends of her and Bonhomme. Once Bonhomme had been arrested for rape on the previously mentioned case, this victim decided to come forward with the details of her case. On June 28, 2012 Detective Larson contacted Bonhomme, who was in custody at Santa Barbara County Jail, and arrested him for rape of a victim unconscious of the nature of the act, with a bail amount of $100,000.00.

Another instance occurred on or about December 17, 2009 involving a 33-year old female victim. This victim similarly felt reluctant to report the incident to police since the allegation was poorly received by mutual friends of her and Bonhomme. However, after realizing that other women with similar accounts of being assaulted by Bonhomme were now coming forward, she felt safe to report the crime and to seek prosecution.

In this case the victim had been partying with Bonhomme and mutual friends at Baja Sharkeez at 416 State Street. After leaving Baja Sharkeez they attended an after-party at a residence in Carpinteria until 4:00 a.m. and then went to a friend's house on 1300 Harmon Street. There the victim passed out on a bed and awoke to find herself partially disrobed and being sexually assaulted by Bonhomme. Shocked, the victim shoved Bonhomme away from her and he stopped the assault. On July 3, 2012 Detective Larson arrested Bonhomme, who was still in custody, for rape of a victim unconscious of the nature of the act and for sexual battery, with a bail amount of $100,000.00.

All of the victims in these cases have been put in contact with advocates from Santa Barbara Rape Crisis. Additional cases against Bonhomme are still being investigated. Any additional victims are encouraged to come forward and to seek services available to survivors of sexual assault. Anyone with knowledge of these crimes is being asked to contact SBPD Detective Brian Larson at (805) 897-2345 or blarson@sbpd.com.
